“ We were one of the families that were lucky enough to spend time each summer and each winter with the Scapini family and others Alex was one of the youngest of the group but was always smiling and letting everyone know he was around. His smile was infectious and the joy he brought to the group will never be forgotten. He was wise beyond his years and had a thirst for knowledge. Alex was a very easy going, kind, and compassionate young man who would light up a room. We love you Alex and will miss you!

“ We met Alex when his family stayed at our Airbnb. We fall in love with the family! Alex was very friendly, respectful, and very pleasant! He will be missed by all who have opportunities to meet with him! We send our deepest condolences to his loving parents! We will pray for David and Karen that our Almighty God gives them strength and peace of mind! Kebreten and Girma

“ Our family knew Alex from the time he was born and always loved him. He was precocious and funny and loved to ask questions. The Scapini family along with several other families would meet for a long weekend each summer at our place in South Haven and in the winter at Crystal mountain to ski. Alex was always a hoot, asking anatomy questions regarding certain body parts, going through a fetish for Tums, and setting off the singing Billy Bass a thousand times. My boys played travel soccer which brought us to the Detroit area most weekends and Dave and Karen were great about bringing the kids to watch the games. I have a son Alex as well and he's pictured with Alex Scapini and the second photo is of Alex and I. When Alex was around 14 my son Matt who lived in the Detroit area at that time picked him up and brought him to our place for a weekend. I believe he learned a lot about what college boys do that weekend. We have but cannot locate a great photo of Alex smiling broadly while standing between my sons who had a rough night out! He brought a light and levity everywhere he went. We will miss Alex very much.

“ I've known Alex (I called him Scapoozles) since I was about 15/16. I'm 22 now. I let Alex through Danny and my brother Bryce. Alex was always the sweetest guy, never EVER had a problem with anyone. He had a smile that could light up a room. He will forever be missed, and he will go down as a legend❤️
