“ I had an immediate connection with Tony from the first day we met. We shared a bond; he had served in the Army as a young man, and I was just going to start my military career. Tony was intelligent, well-read and had a great sense of humor. You could pick just about any topic and Tony was knowledgeable about the subject. He enjoyed playing cards, games, dominoes and doing crossword puzzles with us. Whenever we visited, he made us feel welcomed and we always had a great time. During our visits, Tony and I went out to breakfast. We both loved our breakfast. Tony’s favorite restaurants were Tim Hortons and Seros. During those breakfasts, Tony and I had great conversations and, in our minds, generally solved most of the world’s problems. In all our conversations, he never said an unkind word about anyone. After breakfast, we occasionally went to Home Depot where Tony loved to look around. He loved doing projects and nurturing his lawn. He even washed his car sitting in a wheel chair; of course, the lower half was much cleaner than the upper half. Tony was a kind, compassionate and sentimental man. He truly loved Rose and he was always happiest when he was with Paul, Taylour, Ryley and Bryonna. He beamed when other family members came by to see him. In his later years, he endured every medical issue and persevered without complaint. Tony was my brother-in-law, but to me it felt that he was my actual brother. He will be greatly missed. With my deepest sympathy. Bill
