“ Dear Angela,Danielle & Anthony, Our deepest sympathy to you and your families on the loss of your father. Your dad and I go way back to our childhood from Detroit to Nono Pete's place in Lexington. His whistle as he walked down the road to our cottage, his easy laugh and gentle pleasant nature are part of my fond memories. May he rest in peace. God bless all of you at this difficult time. “ Tony was the cousin I never met. His Father, Antonio, and my Mom were brother and sister. My Mom is the last surviving member of the original family and has spoken fondly of Tony. Tony's middle name, Luigi, is their Father's name. I have vague memories of Bel Cassino and the house in Detroit as we moved to California in 1963. I'm sorry we never got to sit around the table and talk. Rest in peace cousin.
