“ I'm sadden to learn of Barb's passing. She was a great neighbor. The courtyard hasn't been the same without her. The lilacs she planted in the courtyard bloomed beautifully. I think of her every time I pass by them. wasn't able to say goodbye to her. She was moved out of her condo before I got a chance. I'll never forget her!

“ Barb; my neighbor, my friend. I met Barb late in life. She was the fiesty lady in the next court yard. She loved my dogs and we bonded over them.

As time went on I would do her shopping she would buy us lunch. Chicken Shack or Boston Market. She would be mad because Boston Market didn't serve dressing year around. We would watch old movies and she would tell me stores about taking Christine to the movies.

And she loved her cat Misha. If Misha didn't finish her food she would take it up stairs like Misha was a little queen.

If I didn't agree with her she felt I was taking the other person's side. I was playing devils advocate, but she always felt she was right.

Always had her hair and nails done. But she still hung out with this ragamuffin who didn't dye or curl her hair.

The first and only Tigers game I went to Barb and another lady Carol took me and we all rode the Merry go round.

I'll miss that fiesty lady. I wish we could talk again like we used to.

“ I was Barb’s neighbor across the courtyard for 28 years in Warren. Barb was the keeper of our area at the condo’s, yes, I am chuckling while typing this as many will understand this, it is a positive memory of her. Although we had our disagreements along the way, she helped out so many of us neighbors over the years. She always made sure our area was beautiful in the summer months and well kempt and clean during the other seasons. Her Cadillac’s were always shiny and beautiful, oh how she loved her Caddies, and her flowers always blooming so pretty to look at across the way as well as she always enjoyed looking across at my holiday decorations.

I am very blessed and happy that I got to know Barb better as we both grew older and me wiser. I learned so much about her over the years and will always cherish our many porches’ visits shooting the s along with so many funny stories we shared.

Thank you for all the years of being my “I’m not feeding the squirrels, well only the little black one” neighbor and my friend. Your beauty will be missed by all.

*My heartfelt condolences to Barb’s family and friends.
