“ So saddened to hear the news of Brian. What a joy he was in my classroom. I can still see his bright, smiling face...even with a missing tooth or two! He and his parents were among the treasured people the Lord placed in my path as a developing teacher. My prayers are with the Drayer family that the Lord enfold you with His loving arms providing true peace and comfort only He can give. May His grace sustain you till you meet again. I share with you a passage that Brian learned in those early elementary years...words the Lord provided for our Hope beyond this fleeting life. "I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live!" John 11:25 May this promise sustain you in this difficult time. My condolences, Sheila (Toll) Dammann

“ I am so sorry to hear of Brian's passing. Brian and I went to Martin Luther together and later connected on Facebook along with some others from Martin Luther. I am at a loss of words right now. I remember the bright blue eyes and the laughter we all shared. May he have found peace and grace. My deepest condolences to his family and those that loved him.

“ The news of Brian's passing was sudden and surprising, shocking, and saddening. It took a few days, prayers, calls with friends and family; it took hours of glimpsing through 20 plus year old pictures - you know the REAL ONES made on decaying paper! - diary entries, and dreams and memories.... but it all brought me back to his faith in God. My first impression of Brian, the long blond haired, blue (crystal) eyes and bellowing laugh and witty sense of humor, along with his kind and gentle listening ability, knowing ability, loving life ability was awe-some to me.

I remembered learning of his passion for the joy in living and sharing it with everyone around him! Laughing with friends in the park, throwing balls for dogs, trouncing around among the Dandylion People.... and we were.

He left too early, simply too excited for what was next maybe, but my dear inspired, free-spirited brother on Earth left us with the beautiful legacy of his children, I hope his family rests in that comfort, and knows many care.

For me, visions of dandelions and climbable trees, and adventures to conquest through our young adulthood will always remain. Can't wait to catch up with you in Glory.

God bless his family, each and every one.
