Tribute Wall

TS

“ I had the pleasure of working directly with Chad for several years – including a training trip to China.

Chad’s absence has created a hole in our team and my heart that will not readily be filled. His skills, knowledge, and perspective were greatly valued and will be equally missed.

As in many of these tribute postings, Chad’s effect on his co-workers, globally, was profound. Many good memories were made during our trip to China to share with you.

Chad never missed an opportunity to try new foods, experiences, and embrace the world around him.

Chad gave our team his best in his many tough and complex projects. We will miss Chad tremendously.

Here are some memories of Chad that I had collected from our trip.

Rajaa - I cannot adequately express my sympathies for your loss. I know that Chad loved you very much. Your name made me remember something specific about Chad.

If I may share a story, perhaps a humorous one, about Chad and, I presume yourself.

Chad would text me if he were not feeling well. One day, on Feb 19, 2020 - Chad texted me mistakenly thinking it was you. It made me smile and let Chad know that his message was clearly not intended for me. However it told me how much you meant to him.

He simply said" Hi Rajaa, How are you today. I love you."

I hope this brings you a smile as well. Whether or not you received that message, know that Chad loved you too.

“ Wonderful man Chad, you were so nice and gentle. Your images are still clear in my head even though we haven't meet each other for a while. My family and I will keep the memories of happy hours we had. Wish we can share cigarette again, may be decades later when I see you again in the other side ^_^

“ I've only known Chad in the past (almost) 7 years, but I can already see how he's made such a huge impact on everyone in our Molex's Lab. As his coworker and friend, I was lucky enough to see his work with us every day. I'll never forget he taught me how to do the cross-sectioning testing. He was very calm, patient, and respectful. Even though Chad's death was sudden, his impact cannot be contained in his short lifetime. His memory will live on with me and his Molex friends.

“ I worked with Chad at Molex, in both Auburn Hills and Rochester Hills. We were in different groups in our lab, but I would see him regularly. I would like express my deepest sympathy to his family and friends!

“ Chad, remember the days when I working with you together at RH lab and CD lab, you are a friendly guy, thank you for your guidance and help in the EON tests.

Wish you all the way best...

“ In April 2018, Chad came to Chengdu to train us on the EON test, and he took the trouble to explain it to us. The process of training, due to our poor English, the process was complex, but he was always patient and calm, tried his best to help us understand, and kept asking our questions until we fully understood. I remember when Chad was about to leave China, he told me: "If there is any problem with the test, you can always contact me by email", but I didn't expect the difference to be permanent. Thinking of this, I feel very sad and regretful. May you be free from sickness and injury in heaven.
