“ *Hey Gramps,
I wanted to share a memory that you stressed as I was growing up. When you were young and attending school , you often struggled. At that time women were not seen as equals and often disregarded in matters of education. You were not concerned with who you received help from .You sought out those who would be willing to help. Ultimately this display of humility has been a reminder that it is better to ask for help then to struggle in the dark!
Don't worry I'll keep asking for help, I love you and miss you.*

“ My condolences to all of Charlie Green’s family and friends. Nancy and Cindy my dear precious friends. My heart weeps for you today. We know that Charlie is in paradise with our Lord today and I know that it still hurts though because there was love you were lucky to have such a wonderful father. And such a pillar in the community. He was humble about his charity work bringing communion to the homebound. Seeing rosaries and others funerals. Doing income taxes for those who could not afford an accountant and many many other things. His life is a legacy through his children , what wonderful children he has I have never met more kind sweet compassionate caring people as Nancy and Cindy. My heart and prayers will be with you through the funeral and I love you both so very much. 💔🇺🇸🙏

“ *Hey Grandpa,
So a memory I would like to share is from when you brightened my day. We were at dinner after Kurt's funeral and you said Ally I'd like to do a whiskey toast for Kurtie. Me being prepared for any and all situations that day, I reached into my purse and pulled out two little bottles of whiskey. Grandpa smiled and said " what are you Mary Poppins or something?" We both laughed, smiled, and shed a tear as we toasted the wonderful life that Kurt had. Thank you for being there for me in the worst of times and still being able to put a smile on my face and remind me that life is a long journey with many bumps and bruises along the way, but despite the hardships that I still need to stand up, dust myself off, and keep moving forward.*

I am so happy to have had you in my life and know that you are always with me in my heart and all the wonderful memories from over the years. Your constant unwavering love and support has always been there and helped me through some tough times and I will carry your words of encouragement with me always. I will still hear your voice when I'm listening to Frank, Bing, and Deano singing along with mine. Give my love and a big hug to Grandma and Kurtie. Love you, Ally
