“ To the family of Mr. Zalinsky,

My deepest sympathy for your terrible loss. I am 30 years old now, but starting in the 4th grade at Havel elementary, your husband/father taught me how to play the violin. He was one of the most patient people I have ever met. Even after several years had passed, and I was in high school, I would run into Mr. Zalinsky at various music concerts, and he always gave me a big hug and asked me how things were going for me. He always had a smile on his face, and always made time for his students. While I don't have much time in my life right now for playing my violin, the gift he gave me in music has truly been one of the greatest pleasures in my life. To Mr. Zalinsky's children, I recently lost my father 8 weeks ago, suddenly, and I can tell you that remembering all the happy times you shared with your father, and realizing how lucky you were to have such a wonderful father in your life, however brief, may give you some comfort. My thoughts are with you all.
