I am so sorry to hear about your Mom / Grandmother. It is so hard to lose someone you love especially during the holidays. My grandmother passed away at the beginning of November so I know what these last few days have been like for you. I always enjoyed the times we saw your Mother at your family functions. “ I remember with fondness the day Cindy first introduced me to her Mom. We arrived on Bedford Street and walked into the house amidst a flurry of activity in the kitchen and squabbles amongst siblings rotating cars in the driveway, Mrs. Greene greeted me so warmly. Over the years, special family events brought us together for a few brief moments of conversation. She not only made me feel welcome but also beloved. I will never forget her twinkling eyes, her infectious laugh, and a smile that brightened the room.

May God be with you as you share wonderful memories of your wife, mother, grandmother, and friend. Love, April.##imported-begin##April Vossberg##imported-end##
