“ My goodness, it doesn't seem like nearly ten years passed already since you left, Christine. You crossed my mind today and it was good memories as both a colleague and a friend. Still, you are missed. Your humble spirit, laughter and friendship are missed. I pray you are at peace in God's loving arms and hope to see you there one day.

“ Krystyna was part of our family since I can remember, growing up with my Aunt Cecilia. Then I got married and had children, and she became part of their lives. Always thinking of them when we were together for the holidays, especially Nancy. She loved them all but she had a special place for Nancy in her heart. She was a wonderful person that way always giving and never expecting anything in return. We will miss you very much, but know that she is at peace. To my Aunt Cecilia's family and Lisa, you are all in our prayers.##imported-begin##Calogero Evola and family##imported-end##

“ Cecilia, Sal, Lisa & Gabe

Christine's loss brings feelings of emptiness and much sadness to all who knew and loved her. May you find comfort in the thought that she has not been forgotten by the giver of life, the almighty God Jehovah. Please read John chapter 11 there He demonstrates that our loss loved ones like Christine can live again by means of a resurrection. Jesus, His son, assures us this will happen with his words at John 5:28-29 "The time is coming when all those who are dead and buried will hear his voice and out they will come..." Think of that, Jesus promises God's call can awaken Christine from death! My heartfelt wish is that this message of hope brings the family peace.##imported-begin##Jerry Brown##imported-end##

“ Dear Wandas Family,

Please accept this post as a token of my heart felt sympathies. The bible has in it satisfying answers about what happens to us when we die Ecclesiastes 9:5 states "For the living are conscious that they will die; but as for the dead, they are conscious of nothing at all". Take comfort in knowing that your loved one is truly at peace. May the God of tender mercy be a source of comfort to you during your time bereavement.
