“ Dear Aunt Carol,

As you know, every year for the past 6-years, Uncle Dave has given me starter Sweet Basil plants. For the first time Sunday I had to buy my Sweet Basil for pasta sauce...that choked me up. My pasta sauce will never taste the same. I say this, because it didn't when I was done cooking it. I could never grow the herb myself, his plants were the healthiest, tastiest, since my grandparents. I wish I knew his secret. I will miss them among so many other wonderful memories....

When we had our peanut butter and jelly luncheon at your house last summer, no one could get Phillip to relax, Uncle Dave sat down, Phillip crawled right up on his lap and fell fast asleep. He was the "good ole' boy Phil always referred to him as. He was very a-matter-of-fact, I loved that quality about him. He respected everyone, as everyone did him.

He loved you and his children, and you could always see that in his eyes. My little family will miss him dearly.

We are here for all of you in the days to come. Please reach out to us.

Love you,

El, Mike, Paige and Phillip##imported-begin##El Suchy-Coker##imported-end##

“ It's not easy to say good-bye to you Uncle Dave, you were always such a great Uncle. I have so many fond memories that I will carry with me. Our day's at the Cabin come to mind, Christmas's and Easter's on Pearson Street. All the summers at your house swimming in the pool, the long walks from the cabin to Cat Lake. The story you recently told me of how on our way to the Cabin we would stop at the Dairy bar in Almont and you would find me next door sitting on the saddles at Almont Saddlery instead of eating Ice Cream with the other kids. But more importantly I will never ever forget that Million Dollar Smile that you flashed me the last time that I saw you. Through your own pain and sorrow you still thought of others and tried to make them smile as well. When you flashed me that smile it make my heart so happy, yet it made my heart ache at the same time as I knew that that would be the last time that I would ever you smile, and I knew that I would remember it forever. It was a great give to give and one I will never forget. I loved you so very much and will always think of you with the very fondest of memories. Rosie###imported-begin##Rose White###imported-end##
