“ Betty was my loving wife of 35 yrs. In addition to being my wife, she was my best friend, golfing buddy, and Hero. She waged an aggressive , courageous, battle with Breast Cancer with a positive attitude, sharp focus, and determination, She had two basic principals: " It is what it Is" and " Whatever happens , happens for a reason" She refused to focus on potential negative side effects of her chemo drugs, and instead kept her attitude positive and continued to enjoy her life to the fullest. If anyone could have beaten this disease, she would have been the one to bet on. She lived her life with a constant smile, a great laugh, and many friends. She was indeed a Hero. She never quit fighting and simply ran out of time in her effort to be a survivor. She was a class act to the end. She will be greatly missed by me and so many others, Her Loving Husband ,Paul

Paul, my thoughts and prayers are with you in the days ahead without Betty. Though it's been a few years since I saw her, my memories of her are so fond. As you know, we worked together and golfed together for several years. It was always fun to be in her company and her laughter was a constant delight. She will be missed. Jeanette Isenhour

“ I have been doing Betty's hair for years. She had become more than a client to me, she became a friend. I will miss our lunches and most of all her smile and her laugh. You couldn't be around Betty and not be in a great mood. God certainly gained an angel!

“ Betty always knew how to have a good time. I always knew better than to bet on golf when I was playing with Betty. She was a great golf buddy and my savior when it came to my computer problems. My last conversation with her was upbeat and energetic and she was still playing golf. She put up a good fight against this awful disease. God knows she will be greatly missed. My deepest sympathy to Paul and the rest of her extended family.

“ Although our meeting and time together for golf, beer, food and friendship was way too short – it was better than none at all. Your strength and courage was remarkable and will be an inspiration forever. Know that your suffering comes to a peaceful end at a great loss to many of us. Once again, I find myself thing of a song by Melissa Etheridge – Heroes and friends...

*You can't take a trip
If you don't first say goodbye
You can't find a star
If you don't look up in the sky
You can't find a light
If you don't know where the dark ends
And you can't change the heroes and friends*
