

Florence A. Flis

May 19, 1944 - July 7, 2007

Florence Anna Flis (nee Grozenski), 63, of Little Rock, Arkansas, passed from this life on July 7, 2007, to enter into heaven. She was born in Detroit to Romin and Mary Grozenski of Shelby Township. She attended Siena Heights College and was married in 1966. After living in several places, she settled in Little Rock, Arkansas in 1979. She co-founded Flis Enterprises Inc. that year to operate a Burger King franchise. What started as a single restaurant has grown to twelve today. In addition to spending time with her family and many friends, she also enjoyed bridge, crossword puzzles and traveling.

She is survived by her son Dominic Flis of Little Rock, AR and his wife Shelly Flis; her daughter, Karen Smith of Memphis, TN and her husband Jeff Smith; her son Christopher Flis of Hanford, CA and his wife Akiko Flis; and the father of her children David Flis of Little Rock, AR. She is also survived by her parents, Romin and Mary Grozenski, and her siblings John Grozenski of Clarkston; Deborah Boisvert of Shelby Township; and Elizabeth Boyd of Sterling Heights. She had four grandchildren, Ethan Flis, Jessica Flis, Camille Smith and Natalie Smith.

“ Your mom was a beautiful lady and always had a smile on her face. My sisters and I have been doing your grandma's hair for about 30 years and through her we got to know your mom. I heard such wonderful things about the whole family. How proud she must be! Our deepest sympathy to all of you. Julie Bugli##imported-begin##Julie Bugli##imported-end##
