“ I remember when one tablet of a medicine was missing, and Uncle Francis was trying to find out if any of the children (boys) had swallowed it. Even as a child I could see his deep concern as well as his desperate need to protect the children. He reassured the boys that no one was in trouble. When that didn't work, he tried the "white lie approach". He told them that their tongue would turn colours and he was going to check all the tongues. I knew that it wasn't the truth, but he seemed so scared for the children. I don't think we ever knew what happened to that pill but that need to protect was so strongly demonstrated to me, by him.

He was always walking quickly from one family member to the next before he would leave a gathering. He would look around, seeming to do a mental body check. It was as if he had to make sure that he didn't miss saying goodbye to anyone.

That picture is how I always picture Uncle Francis when his name is mentioned. I felt that his smile was genuine because it encompassed his entire face.

Rest in peace Uncle Francis and say, "Hey" to all who have gone before you.

“ Dearest Francis, may the Lord keep you in his care. You were a loving and generous person to all. You always thought of the children at Family picnics, purchasing ice cream for all of them, and at Christmas giving monetary gifts to the children in the Nativity. You will truly be missed by all who knew you. God bless you always,
