“ Papa you always made me smile and laugh. You were always very sweet to me and for a time, when I needed it, you were like a second father. I treasure the time you took to make me feel welcome in your home, swimming in the pool, and our many talks. As the years passed and I drove by your house, first single, then married and then with my son. I would always honk and wave and you always jumped (pretending to be startled) and then laugh and wave. The last time I spoke to you was at Stephen's funeral. It was a sad time, but we still managed to smile and laugh and roll our eyes and give each other "those" looks. You were very much loved and will be missed. God speed Papa <3
