Gail has been a lifelong friend of our family and especially my deceased sister, Chris Markowski-Manssor. They are together now, sharing a cup of coffee, old memories, and stories about their children and grandchildren. My niece Angie was very close to Gail and was there often to help the family comfort and care for her. My brother and his wife, and myself extend our deepest sympathy to Gail's family.

I second Aunti Chris's sentiment. We are a Great Family. We love each other, we laugh with each other and we will cry with each other. We have shared a lot of great memories together as cousins and now we are the grown ups. It's the natural process of the circle of life but it's weird because it feels like just yesterday we were playing baseball and swimming in the yard. Love you guys if you need anything give us a call. Love Kathy and Bruce

Gail was always sad about the divorce and wished they would've gotten back together. Hopefully in a perfect world on the other side, Sam was waiting to welcome her there.

Much of my childhood was spent with my extended "cousin family." Gail was a major part of the memories I have. She always treated me with kindness and was always willing to "teach me about the babies." I always remember her smile and laugh. It was infectious. As a young teen, she put me at ease and always made me feel a part of every birthday, BBQ or event that occurred. One evening when I was babysitting, an infant John would not stop crying. I was not going to call and disrupt her night out. So, I recall doing a great deal of walking with Larry and Kim by my side and finally lying very still on the bed after John fell asleep. The four of us didn't move for a few hours and that is where she found us! I just recall how proud she was of me and gave me the biggest hug. Again, that smile... Thanks for the great childhood memories Gail. Love, Valerie

*Yes Valerie, Auntie Gail's laugh was infectious. I can still hear it. It's 3 days later and I'm still in shock. I can't even imagine what my "little cousins" are feeling. No disrespect you guys but this has taken me back to feeling like a child again and where I go, you go. My heart, prayers and love are with you always (in case you didn't already know) and I will amp it up through this terrible time. And just as everyone may tell you, call if you need ANYTHING!
I love you, Rose Anne and the Laske men*
