“ To my godfather, George...I will miss your warm smiles and conversation, and your humor. Most of all, I will miss watching you and Virginia dance! Your values of God, country, and family, are great American values. Thank-you for your service to our country! You led your family with respect, class, and dignity, that reached down into the souls of your children and grandchildren. You left your footprints in the sand, George...##imported-begin##Joe Bolde##imported-end##

“ My dad had the gift of bringing laughter to everyone he knew. In times of trouble, he kept his sense of humor. He worked 2 jobs to ensure that his 4 children had parochial schooling. He liked to fish and taught us the ropes of fishing, as well as basketball and football. My dad was an easy-going and kind-hearted man. He was always ready to help neighbors, friends and relatives. He brought laughter to them too, and was cheerful to the end of his life. My dad belonged to St. Isador and was an usher there for many years. Even when he couldn't drive any more, he and my mom kept Christ in their lives via TV services. My dad enlisted in the military at age 17 during WWII and saw combat in Okinawa. We buried him in his Marine uniform and he received a military tribute at Wasik Funeral Home and a military rifle salute for his service at Resurrection Cemetary. Although all 4 of us siblings took turns helping our folks, my mom cared for dad the most in his last days. I credit her for being the love of his life. I want to thank God for the good times I spent with my dad: fishing, playing cards, bird watching, and gardening. Dad was so gifted in making me--all of us--laugh. Now, dad can bring laughter to the angels and saints in paradise.

With Love,

George's daughter, Judy Anderson###imported-begin##Judy Anderson###imported-end##

“ George I am smiling as I write this... remembering how you used to "sneak" into my office with a cup of coffee, sit down and we would begin our daily ritual of fish exaggeration stories. We would both be on alert for Virginia coming around the corner and telling us both to get to work. You were a good man George, and a good friend to every person in the lab. “ Dearest Dad, I will always remember you as the "rock" of the family. You welcomed me into your family with open arms, and I'm sure that's how God has received you. I'll miss your loving greeting, "Hi Doll" as you called me that ever since I've known you. Our fishing trips were few, but bountiful. It was always a race as to whom would catch the most fish... I think you beat me every time! You and Mom are the best grandparents I could have hoped for for my sons. I thank you for that. I love you, Dad!
