She married the love of her life, the late Jean Uleski, in August 1971. Best friends and soul mates, together they raised a beautiful family and enjoyed their time on their slice of heaven in Northern Michigan, making and cherishing many memories along the way.

A Native American, Gloria was immensely proud of her Chippewa and Odawa heritage. She is survived by her friend and sister, Diane Henry, her loving sister and brother in-laws, aunts, uncles, many cousins, and her favorite kitty companion, Boo Boo.

A celebration of life will be held at her home in Northern Michigan at a later date.

“ Gloria lived next door to us when I was a kid in Algonac. She would baby sit us every so often. She was always so nice and very kind. We had shared some funny moments not long ago from those days.

One of those memories: I was grounded from riding my bike. My dad would take the front tire off and hang the bike and tire in separate areas of the garage. Gloria was watching us that day. I was very defiant and pulled the bike and tire down and in my attempt and haste to get to riding, I failed to tighten the bolts. Gloria stood at the front door and said “your dad said you were grounded from your bike!” I yelled back, “Well, I’m riding it now!...” I then attempted to pop a wheelie and the front tire flew off! I then landed on the forks and flipped over the handle bars. Gloria’s laughter could be heard through out the neighborhood. I will never forget her laugh and kindness. When I asked her recently if she remembered that, her response was...”Oh...I remember it well!” lol
Rest in heaven dear Gloria

Your grandmother, your grand father, your great grand mother and your aunt were the first family we met when we moved to Algonac. We lived right next door. Your grandfather was cooler than cool too! Your grandmother had a very cheerful laugh! I remember her well. May you all be blessed with cherished memories of her that will live on.
