“ My client and my Friend, Hal. You were such a good listener when it came to advertising and promotions to the African American market. More than that, you believed in me to take care of it. You and your old school manual pencil sharpener in your office always cracked me up every time you used it. And you said they always had to be sharp. Rest in Paradise my friend.

“ Dear Dittrich family....my heart goes out to all of you. Let's see, what can I say about Hal that will bring laughter through tears. Karen, what about the time we were looking for your apartment in NYC and Hal gave us thirty minutes to make a decision. And how about our dinners down in the village when Hal finally hailed a taxi when you and I couldn't walk another step. And what about Hal in the fur market showrooms. Let's see...he always had his measuring tape for the sweep and length of the garment and he loved throwing the coat on the floor to show everyone the mismatched skins. And remember Hal blowing and pulling out hairs on rabbit garments just to prove how much they shed. And writing orders that went on forever because everything had to be noted...thats about when my hair would be standing up. Hal was really wonderful to me. I thank all of you and Hal for always making me feel part of your family. And what a precious family it is. He will always remain within us...love, Cindy Gutter
