“ My mom always said that Harold was one of her favorite cousins... I was always made to feel like part of the family. I always felt special around him - the way he would say things that would sound mean, yet I always seemed to catch a wink or a smile, knowing that he was just joking, and I was the only other person in on the joke... Harold Schornack was one of the first people in my life that I ever considered a truly good man. I am a better person for having been part of his family.

“ My fondest memory of my cousin Harold happened when I was a little girl and we were at my "Auntie Aggie's" for a holiday dinner.
Harold was playing with me and lifted me "up to the sky" so my head could touch the ceiling in the kitchen. I was scared and excited at the same time. I always remember that time because I was so impressed with how strong my older cousin was!!
