“ Hazel has been a part of our family for such a long time. I don't even know where to begin. So many bingo games, euchre games, game nights in general, football pools, bowling leagues, family parties, and she and I even shared rooms when we went on a cruise ship and in Las Vegas (when Jeff and Karen got married). She always treated all of the kids in our family like grandchildren. She was a true part of our family and was at almost every family function. There are so many wonderful memories of Hazel, but one of my favorites is when my brother was going through his cancer treatments and liked to play poker as a distraction. We would always pick Hazel up on our way over to his house. Often, he liked to play much later than I could stay awake. We would go home, but Hazel would stay and someone always made sure she got home. One time in particular, I remember Jeff and Karen telling us about how Hazel came home at 3:30 in the morning. She stayed and played poker with my brother and his friends and then went out to Denny's for breakfast before coming home. The 40 year age difference wasn't even noticed. They all had a good time, and Hazel fit right in (although Jeff joked about needing to give Hazel a curfew). She had a huge heart, was extremely generous and so full of love. Her contagious laugh will be missed by all. We were all very blessed to have had such a wonderful woman in our lives. Darlene Smith

“ Mom,

I want to take a moment to reflect upon your life as it pertained to me.

You are the greatest mother anyone could ever imagine. Through all of the years that we shared together you never once made me feel unloved. Your devotion to making everything appear perfect in our lives was astonishing.

No matter the circumstance, good or bad, you always took care of me as if the world were a perfect place. I always felt secure in your arms.

Even though I grew up, got married, had children and then grandchildren you were always there when a special occasion took place to celebrate with us.

I will always remember the struggles you went through in order to attend both Ethan's High School graduation and Grace's middle school promotion. You were determined, or maybe the word should be stubborn, to be able to see them accomplish this milestone in their lives. I'm sure that it will be a "forever" memory for them as well.

I know that God has called you home for a reason, and that you are now perfect in every way.

My heart is broken. Even though your soul has gone to heaven it is my intention to preserve your spirit and determination in my daily life.

You were the most kindest, gracious, loving person to every one that came into your life. You were loved and admired by so many, and they will miss your sweet smile and infectious laugh.

The last two years have undoubtedly been very special. When you came to live with me you brought your strength and love when I was in an empty place at that time. Being able to spend that time with you will always be a precious part of my life.

I will always love you Momma.

“ Mom, you will be missed for many reasons. You are loved by many and will always be in my heart. You have always been there for Linda and I . You have been the mother in law that most men could only hope for. You are now with God and in peace. You can now breath the air that he wants you to have and have no more aches and pains. You will be missed but will remain in are hearts forever. LOVE YOU. RICK

“ My grandma, my mamma, is someone I saw nearly every day as a child. She didn't just watch me or babysit, she was raising me. She and everyone else that lived in or came through the door of that little house on Continental. She spoiled me and indulged all my little kid wants but what she really gave me and spoiled me with was her love. When our family moved away I did not get to see her everyday sometimes not even every year. But that love endured and I was elated when we had the chance the last few years to see her more. My kids got to feel her love and, I hope, make lasting memories they will always cherish. I know that I will always cherish you mamma and miss you so so much. I love you always. - Scotty

“ Hazel had the best laugh ever, and when we would play cards at moms house on Continental, she would laugh no matter what, win or lose, she had fun and it was always a joy to have her around. And you could always count on having a cup of coffee with her when you walked into her house. Even though life put miles between us, we kept in touch thru Christmas cards. Love that lovely lady. She gave us a lot of fun memories at the Continental Club.

“ My second mom. We had a ton of fun and a lot of laughs together!! If I had to pick one out of a million memories, it would be going on the rides at Halmich Park. She loved the ones that went upside down, and the faster the better. Always in my heart, Patsy

“ As a child, she would sit on the floor with me and my brother and play for hours. We used to walk up to the snakepit and buy candy. I don't think she ever told us no when the ice cream truck came by. Those are a few of my oldest memories from the house on Continental.
