“ Sorry to hear about Aunt Helen's passing.....as the last of the Aunt's and Uncle's, the torch is passed onto us Grandchildren/Great-Grandchildren. I remember Aunt Helen's rhubarb pie as a kid. I remember she and Uncle Clarence had a patch in the back-yard by the alley. We bought some at the store the other day.....it was good, but not like Aunt Helen's!

“ Grandma, what a joyful reunion there must be going on in Heaven this week! Grandpa, Conrad and Rose, and Margie, along with your parents and siblings, are all escorting and welcoming you Home!! We will miss your physical presence, but we know you are in a place far better than here. Thank you for all the love and attention you've given throughout the years. Thank you for including us as family. We love you.##imported-begin##Beth Rocheleau##imported-end##

“ God Bless You Grandma! I know we did not talk very much being that I live in a different state. I adored our conversation on the phone the other week. I love you just as much as I loved my Auntie Margie (God rest her soul), and I am positive that she escorted you home. Being your great-grand-daughter, I was really hoping to meet you this summer, but Auntie Margie already introduced us through her wonderful stories. God Bless!##imported-begin##Natasia Boyko##imported-end##
