“ The first time I met Jim it was at my sisters. He made sausage and arugula which I had never ate. He was funny and my daughter loved him like an Uncle.

“ I have many memories of Jim that go way back to when ya'll lived in East Detroit. When my family moved south and I would see him on occasions while visiting back home, he would always look at my feet to see if I was wearing shoes and call me a hillbilly. I'm so sorry for the loss of yet another beloved family member. Prayers and thought to all through this hard time of saying goodbye.

Love,
