

James "Jim" Quinten King

September 30, 1929 - February 17, 2010

James Q. King, born September 30, 1929 in Seattle, Washington, was the second of three children of James E. and Eulalie M. King. His parents and two sisters, Frances and Carole, as well as his step-brother, Bill Monger, preceded him death. He grew up in the north end of Seattle, Washington and attended Lincoln High School. In 1946, he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps, and served two years. One of the rare people who didn't go to work for Boeing during the era, he worked as an auto mechanic until entering the Seattle Fire Department in 1950. He earned promotions through the years to Lieutenant, Captain, Battalion Chief and Deputy Chief, and was Assistant Chief of the Department at the time he was retired in 1975, due to cardiovascular disease. He had the rare opportunity to serve in all divisions of the Department; administration, combat, alarm, fire prevention, and training, as well as being part of the creation of the Medic One Program. While still active, he was elected as the first president of the SFD Officers Association, formed to address the concerns of the various supervisory ranks within the Department. Upon retirement, he joined the Retired Firefighters of Washington. Elected president of the RFFOW in 1991, he served almost ten years, working with members of the fire service throughout the State of Washington. Contact with state officials and legislators, plus service as a member of the Advisory Committee to the Department of Retirement Systems kept him active throughout the 90's.

As a member of the Seattle Retired Firefighters' Travel Club, and with a career army officer for a son, he and Betty had many opportunities to travel and see the marvels of this country, as well as exciting foreign lands. Jim was also a member of the Doric Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite and the Maltese Club of Masonic Firefighters.

Jim is survived by his beloved wife, Betty (Mary Elizabeth Yatsunoff); son, Dion Joseph; daughter-in-law, Noreen and three grandchildren, Jamie Marie, Jacob Joseph and Joshua Michael. Jim is also survived by many nieces and nephews. He marveled often, in his senior years, at the rare good fortune of having a beautiful family, a great career and a life that made each and every day such a remarkable pleasure for him. In addition to Jim's funeral service in Michigan, a memorial service will be held in Seattle, Washington at a later date.

“ Dion,

We are so sorry about your dad. Mary has heard all the old stories about Schofield Barracks, including those of your parents visiting. When we went to Honolulu for our 1st anniversary; I took her to the quad. Doesn't have the same character, but will remain a time I will always remember.

On a lighter note, Adam is doing fine at 10th mountain. Up to his butt in snow, but is enjoying it. He leaves April 1 on his first deployment. Life remains quiet in Lumberton.

Take care. If there is anything you or Noreen need all you have to do is pick up the phone.

“ We are so very saddened by Jim's passing, but do feel honored to have known him and had him as a dear friend. He was an exceptional man, bright, intelligent and above all, so very caring. I'll miss him checking my spelling and grammar, but will always spell and pronounce February correctly!! That word was a pet peeve of his when the first "r" was dropped. Our love to Betty, we miss her.##imported-begin##George and Margaret Artim##imported-end##

My prayers are with you and your family during this time of sorrow. God's word says that He will comfort those who mourn; therefore, mourn if you must, but rest assured that this too shall pass. God is faithful and keeps watch over His word. His word will do just what He said it would.
