“ I’m so sorry for your loss. When she was little I let her play with my Barbie and she was the only one I allowed to do that. She’s in Heaven now and free from all the pain she loved with for so long. She will be missed

“ When were kids and our folks were not home she would sneak up behind me and flick my ear or thump me on the head and then run. I would go after her and she would lock herself in the bathroom. I would wait quietly and after about 20 minutes she would come out and i would return the flick or thump. Good times. I me miss her terribly.
