“ Dear Candela family, I am so sorry to hear about your great loss. As your hearts are full of grief and pain, I pray that your family will draw comfort from the promise from God found in John 5:28, 29. Here we are assured that soon our loved ones will be resurrected back to life. May God prove to be your true source for strength and hope during this most difficult time.

“ Dear Candela Family:
We are so very sad to hear about Jason's passing. Although we've known your family through the younger kids, we only recently got to know Jason through Ethan and Maddie's friendship. He was a genuinely nice guy. Our hearts hurt for all of you. Please know you are in our thoughts and prayers. We hope that good memories will sustain you in the difficult days ahead. Our love to you all. Barb & Tom Lamb and Family

“ Dear Crystal,

I am so sorry for your loss. My son Xander is in Ethan's class at Harmon. I had heard of Jason's passing because of us going to school together and Joe S, passing recently as well. I only knew Jason in passing and didn't realize our children were in the same class. It is a very small world. There are no words that I can offer you at this time. If you need anything please send word through Mrs. Livingston or ask her for my number. Ethan is always welcome here if you need it for a play day. Much strength to you in this time. I am so very sorry.

“ Dear Joyce,

I was shocked and deeply saddened by the news of your son's untimely passing. Although I didn't know your son personally, I knew your family to be a close, loving family and pray that your faith, love and memories of Jason will sustain you at this difficult time and warm your heart in the days to follow.

Please accept heartfelt sympathy from my family to yours.

“ Jason and I were friends in HS. We had several classes together, including music. Even joined the wrestling team together, lettering at the same time. The only guy I knew that broke his hand at tough football. There when you needed him, always with a smile and something funny/interesting to say.

He was a good guy, smartass, and friend. I wish we had reconnected.

My condolences to his family.

“ So sorry and saddened to be posting on this page but the memories will always be wonderful. Jason and I were friends when were young, all the way from Harmon Elementary. We played with his transformers and talked and hung out at lunch all the time. We shared a love of fantasy/fiction reading and he introduced me to the author David Eddings. He will always reside in some of the most precious memories of my youth, the ones you guard and protect from fading away. To the Candela family, his wife Crystal I'm so sorry for you loss. Jason left a mark the lives of all he crossed paths with and I will never forget his smile and fun ways. I am grateful to have shared some time with him. I can't help but feel grief, yet I will always be grateful, grateful to the young man who befriended me when I most needed friends.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to all Jason's family and friends. I wanted to share one of my favorite memories of Jason. It's from back in high school, at our usual hang out, and he randomly started dancing to Blind Melon's song No Rain. Squatted down with his arms flapping, just like the girl in the video. All of us were crying we were laughing so hard. He ALWAYS had us laughing! I'll never forget that, nor will I ever forget him. Rest in peace, Jason.

“ Im so sorry for your loss. Crystal, you dont know me but in high school your husband was friends with mine. Having just lost my soul mate, I know the pain you are going through. I can't tell you if it will get easier or that you will be able to go back to the way things were. Please just grieve the way you need too. It's ok to be mad and angry. Life seems cruel sometimes and in moments you wont be able to make sense of anything. My heart is with you. Your gonna hear this alot but if you need anything, please dont hesitate to ask. I truly am sorry for your loss. My thoughts are with you, your children and your entire family.
