“ Dear Jason, I cannot believe it already has been 2 weeks since your passing, this isn't right, this is not suppose to be, I feel horrible and live with guilt that I could not come and see you, this family is not the same without you, I also cannot stop thinking many many of things and memories with you, and besides the fact that you held a very special place in my dads heart, my heart aches for your brother, mom, and christina. Say hi to grandpa, grandma, my dad, and your dad up there okay.... Love your cousin Laura R.I.P.

“ It was so sad to hear of Jason's passing. He was truly a great person a very happy person every time I saw him and talked with him at Comerica Park. We became friends at the ballpark one day when Jason stopped me in the "D" Shop while I was working. He was asking me about some of the clothing in there as I am a pretty big guy myself. We stood and talked for awhile and every time after that whenever Jason came to a game he looked me up. It won't be the same not seeing him there anymore. I know he will still be cheering for his beloved Detroit Tigers however. My condolences do go out to Christina and the rest of the families. Take care my good friend. It was short but very memorable.

“ j- I have attempted to write this a few times and can never finish, I still cannot believe this and I know a lot of us are angry and very sadden. You meant so much to me and I'm mad it has taken loosen you to really see how much. I know our lives had change (for the better) thru the past few yrs and we always said "LETS GET TOGETHER SOON"!! And never did. I'm mad that we never made it happen and allowed the BS of busy life get in the way. Jay I'm sorry about that and every time we spoke (a lot of it was when I lost my phone, and you would say HOW!! can you go thru phones like I do underwear ha ha ) we would say how much we missed one another and drinks soon along with a few more smart a%& comments...awe jay seeing my husband fall to his knees and tears of such sadden breaks my heart but to see him be there for your wife and family makes me SO proud you were a BROTHER to him and many of us, but as you leave you have taken a pieces of us and made us a better person. Your loss made us realize "life can change in a blink of an eye" "No one is guaranteed tomorrow" You have made a strong impact and leave behind a legacy, you left so many things people can appreciate. I wear my tiger gear today in honor of one of the best people I have ever known. For this isn't goodbye it is see you again my brother...I love you xxx <3 Melissa

“ I wish to send my deepest sympathies to Christina, Marcy and Ryan, in addition to the entire City Recycling Family. I still remember how proud John, his Dad and Mom were to come and watch Ryan play football for me at Notre Dame High School. They are a special, close-knit family. I also have to smile when I remember that it was probably months before I learned that his first name wasn't actually Stu. He will be sorely missed by all. “ *Stewarts,
We are so sorry for your tremendous loss. Jason was a great guy that I could always depend on, whether he was working at Eastpointe Parks & Rec. or coaching with me at St. Veronica's. Jason was a behind the scenes kind of leader, just like his Dad. Some of our families best memories involve the Eastpointe Little League and all the activities at St. Veronica. John, Marcy, Jason and Ryan were all major parts of those memories. We love you guys and will continue to pray for all of you. Jason is a perfect examples of only the good die young. “ I had a really hard time today trying to explain how you were my cousin but not really my cousin because you were more like a little brother. After all, in our family, we are all so much more than titles, aren't we? How do you tell people that so that they understand?

There is too much in my head to write it all here but I wanted to say that I am so proud to be able to say you were a member of my family. You are one of the most caring, giving people I have ever known and I have no idea what we are going to do without you.

“ In everyone's eyes you are a man...and a fine man at that; but to me you will always be the 8, 9, 10 year old that you were when I lived with you guys...the one who I played endless board games with (remember our version of "Don't Talk To Strangers"???), the one who always wanted to wrestle, the one who hated my cooking - especially my pork chops. In 20 years I haven't been able to make them without smiling and thinking about those god-awful ones I begged you to eat ("like a hockey puck!" you said). I have told that story to my kids a hundred times! That's how you became "Pork Chop" to me. And that's how I'll remember you... Your being gone is going to leave such a huge void in so many lives...because you grew into such a fine man, a good person, a selfless person. I'm not going to say good bye to you, because you'll forever be in my heart. I will miss you, and will love you forever. I'll see you when I see you, Pork Chop.

“ My sincere condolences go out to all of the family of Jason. Altho I did not know Jason personally, I knew the family and I am sure he grew up to be a fine young man. We don't know why God takes us when he does, but he obviously has a plan. He must have needed Jason up in heaven to be his angel now. It is hard not to cry and be sad for our loss, but remember, we are crying for ourselves. Jason is in a much better place and is happy. He will be the angle on your shoulders now. “ J,

*We grew up together as family and as coworkers and have shared some great memories as well as some not so good. It has been hard walking in to work and knowing you'll never be here with us again a greater pain than I could ever imagine . God has his reasons for taking us away but that doesn't mean we have to always like them ! I'm a bit Mad, Angry and Bitter ! In time I trust that this will pass . I will forever promise you that I will remember you often , speak of you often (and to you, so please listen when I need to talk and don't give me that weird smirk you always did), I will keep your kindness in my heart and try to pass it out as much as you did . You are a wonderful Husband , Son , Brother , Cousin and Friend we will all truly miss you until we see you again keep the Kenny Chesney and Zac brown turned up loud so when its my time I know where to find you !

*Jason, my dear nephew, why God had to take you from us so soon, we will never know. I will truly miss the teasing that you always did with me. You grew up to be a fine man and found the perfect woman to marry. You will always be remembered as a part of this family and although we grieve now, when I look up I will think of you in heaven. Your big heart and great smile will be truly missed. Your passing leaves a big hole in this family. Things will never be the same. You were much too young to leave us and your lovely wife Christina.
