“ My aunt Jean was a clown always could make u laugh! I got a video of her and aunt jan and uncle Johnny taking me and my brother to a park and they played keep away from me my Winnie the pooh doll and they would take him and put him in the swing and swing him so high I would be crying for my pooh bear and they just laughed... Wasn't so funny as I was only 3 yrs old but now at age 33 I think it was hilarious.

“ I was fortunate enough to have met and talked on quite a few occasions with Jean last summer as she walked and toked on her Swisher Sweets. :) She was actually really cool! Very down to earth. Very easy going. She's my neighbor. Her grandson Carter is my children's friend. They adore Carter. Always begging to go over to his house during summer break. Many many times just sneaking over there to desperately play since there's not many kids in this neck of the woods. Carter is in 2nd grade. Wedging himself between my Logan, Ava & JoJo who are 4th, 3rd and 1st grades. My children were sad to hear of "Carter's grandma's" passing. They talked of Carter's grandma being "so funny". I would like to tell my favorite memory of Jean. Back in the summer on a busy summer week day I caught Jean and Carter crossing the Main and Division streets, both on Big Wheels (the 3-wheeled children's bicycle that's low to the ground.) Circling over to BP and back home. Later on that day I seen her walking (as she always walked) and I asked if that was her and she smiled and says yeah, that was me. He wanted to ride those up town. And I said to her... "You're the coolest grandma EVER!" I'll never forget that..... May you R.I.P. Jean... my awesome neighbor! ~xo
