“ I have many fond memories of my Grandma. When we lived out West and her in Michigan I enjoyed receiving cards for birthdays and special occasions knowing my Grandma was far but was thinking of me. When I was young she bought me a pink ceramic fisher price piggy bank for a birthday that I still have to this day. When we would visit Michigan we would play in her backyard or relax in her sunroom and visit. We would pick fresh raspberries from her backyard and eat them, even though I didn't really like raspberries but they were Grandmas! When we moved back to Michigan we would get together at Aunt Christine Kot Becher for every Birthday and special occasions to celebrate. I loved playing Euchre with Grandma, she was a bit of a feisty card shark. Grandma was an amazing cook and made yummy authentic Polish foods and even tastier "Grandma Desserts". Ultimately she lead a pretty private life and didn't disclose much about her upbringing, but in her later years while her mind was still sharp she and I had several conversations where she opened up about her past. Just the fact that she shared the details with me warmed my heart. I love you Grandma Kot!
