“Working as a healthcare provider in the hospital, where horror and death roam so freely, I really thought I had something to say in every situation.....until it hit home.

Even though we’ve lost touch over the years, my heart was heavy to learn about Jess’s passing. One more bright light gone from this world far too soon.

I will always have fond memories about us hanging out and acting together in wayside’s ypw workshops.

Jen- all of us hardcore wayside-YPW grads always considered ourselves an extended family. I would love to reconnect with you. So please know if you ever need anything or just need someone to listen, please don’t hesitate to reach out. I will be here for you. You can reach me at 336-240-9591 any time.

“ Though we weren't close, I am honored that I got to know Jessica (and Jen) through my last year at Virginia Tech in two shows and even during their Disney College Program. My heart aches for you Jen and your family. Her kindness, talent, and quiriness shone through and was always such fun to be around. Thankful for the memories I and others have between rehearsals, classes, social events and that we could all both co-miserate and celebrate the mouse and the entertainment world. Sending much love and light to all your loved ones.

“ Thinking of Jess today, and of Jen, and of the rest of the Davison family today as you deal with this - it is an inconceivable loss. May strength be yours. Much love.

“ Dear Laura, my heart aches thinking of you facing the loss of another child. You reached out to me after we lost Alex and kept me afloat, knowing I wasn't alone. From all accounts, the world lost a shining star and an empathetic soul. May you know the love that surrounds you and your family and be lifted by our prayers for a peaceful heart in your time.

“ I am so sad to hear this news about Jessica. Both Jessica and Jennifer were such dear students of mine at Redbud Run Elementary School, and I absolutely adored them. I can picture Jessica and Jennifer in my classroom and in my choir. I still have the many gifts they have given me throughout the years of teaching them. I never saw one without the other and I know this is particularly hard on you Jennifer. You and your family are in my prayers and in my heart.

“ I feel so lucky to have shared so much of my college experience with Jessica, whether it was on stage, in class, behind the scenes, or up in the lighting grid. She was so talented, thoughtful, hardworking, and just an incredible joy to be around. May her memory be for a blessing.

“ The incredible energy and passion for the arts she exuded during her time on this earth will stay with us forever, and I can absolutely say I'm a better person because of her friendship. From attending Marlo and I's wedding, our secret handshakes, hosting a radio show together at WUVT in Blacksburg (Virginia Tech radio) and simply hanging out, I will forever cherish our moments together. Talking movies with Jessica was always a place where our love and interests collided in a big way. We understood each other, found out we acted on the same stages growing up near Winchester, VA, and we got the incredible opportunity to share the same stage during a production of "Woyzeck" at Virginia Tech. Please keep them in your thoughts, send lots of love and know that we lost a true badass this week. Her unique spirit is one I would do almost anything to go back and harness for one more minute. ❤️🙏

“ Jessica (and Jen, as they were never not together) were and are authentic, tough and beautiful women breaking boundaries in a male dominated industry and more importantly, good friends to everyone who was lucky enough to share their world. Jess reached out to me when I was struggling with chronic illness and said "The one thing we understand is doctors and feeling like your alone. And your not. Cause jen and I won't ever let you be." the sheer empathy, kindness and openness in that one message shows the light Jess had, and the wonderful person we've lost.
