“ Joe was a good friend. We spent alot of time together and shared a ton of laughs. He often told me how much he loved his kids and wished he could spend more time with and do more for them. He was a hard working man and always did for others before doing for himself. the first time i saw Joe he was shirtless ripped from head to toe and apeared to have zero body fat, pouring concrete with the sinelli concrete co. I thought there is a guy i don t ever want to get in the way of, but getting in the way of Joe Deegan was never a problem and always a pleasure for me. I enjoyed his stories when he served our country and defended our freedom. Joe was a combat construction specialist , stationed on the DMZ in South Korea. after being shot Joe went back to finish his duty even though he didn t have too. A true testament to the type of man Joe was. I m proud to say that Joe Deegan was my friend, and i will miss him dearly. until we meet again my friend. when kidding around with Joe, i can still hear him say "it s going down - your about to find out" i used to crack up but now i cry, i love you Joe too Cristina, Julie and Anthony your dad loved you guys more than life itself. All he ever wanted was to be a better dad for you guys. I think you know that. If there is anything you need and i can do it i will!
