“ To my gf who never gave up! Such as inspiration to us all. Kimmie you had some big battles in life and came out smelling like a rose. I certainly admired how you handled all the difficult things that came your way. You showed me how to be stronger person, how to forgive, how to have a good time. I will always remember the good times we had in Cancun, especially the one when we had 2 cabs and both got pulled over by the police. Plus the time we all went swimming in the pond, and it was so slimy on the rocks we had to yell for somebody to pull us out. I have very fond memories of the great times we had while working at the papers, especially the after work parties. You have a fantastic family and you are so loved by many. Have a great new life up in heaven, behave yourself, and I will see you when I get there.....Love you like there is no tomorrow.

“ I remember when Kim and Cheryl came to visit my mom on Joan street back in the summer of 2013. My mom wasn't feeling great at that time, but that was so nice that they both went out of their way to stop by and cheer her up. I am keeping Kim and the whole Louwers family in my thoughts and prayers ❤️.
