“ I have been Leonards maillady for about 22years.He has been a blessing to me everyday,we'd talk, he made me wooden objects through the years. He'd give me corn, snacks,pepsi,use of rest room in emergency times. He knew my off days. He no longer had to go to the box, he got special treatment. He loved his nephew priests',worried about his sister. I saw him Tues, he had an old friend visting,told me he wasn't doing well, I told him that he should leave that theraphy alone if it had him to the point of not being able to walk. Not to worry about the mail I would continue to bring it as always. I came looking for him, saw his car and knocked because the door was locked. Normally I'd put it on the table or slide it under the door if he wasn't home, (Sometimes he'd be sleep in the chair so I'd be real quite not to disturb him) I went to tell Mrs Gasser that something is "wrong" I see his car and he's not answering - she gave me some hurtful news. He has been a part of my daily walk for so long. Please contact his friend that move to CA. I believe it was, he'd often say how much he missed her. He's gone on to Glory,finished the race and fought a good fight. I just wasn't ready to give him up, he was a dear friend. He slip away,I tried to leave and not intrude because he had company, I feel like I missed it a little,not taking heed to him saying he wasn't doing well. May the Holy Spirit comfort you (family) as he promised he would. Please send the P.O. a change of address, I'll hold all his mail until you do. God Bless You Deborah Stubbs###imported-begin##Deborah (Debbie) Stubbs###imported-end##
