“ Dearest (((Ray, Jean, Kari, and Amanda))) I wish I could comfort you.
Words seem inadequate to express the sadness we feel about Lisa's passing...and words won't heal the pain of losing her. We are here to support you in your journey of even more grief than you should be experiencing in this short time span. As you grieve, know that we are remembering you and honoring the memory of Lisa. I know we never lose the people we love, they just pass on ahead of us. They continue to participate in every act, thought and decision we make. They leave an imprint in our memories forever. I know we eventually do find comfort in knowing that our lives have been enriched by having shared their love, and by having those memories. Today and always, may loving memories bring you strength, comfort, and peace. You are constantly in my thoughts... My sincerest sympathy is always with you.
Beautiful Lisa...Infinite Love.###imported-begin###Lynne Bowen###imported-end##

“ Lisa touched my life in soo many ways and there are no words to describe the pain or how much we are going to miss her. But we will all hold onto her laughter, beautiful smile and memories. Lisa is in Gods glorious house now , her tears have been washed away and she is having a ball with mammie and uncle John. So no matter how it pains us we need to take our selfishness away and realize that it was gods will for her to be home with him, with God, to do his work now . And remember that lisas body is gone but not her spirit or our memories of her###imported-begin###anita kitchen###imported-end###

“ A Rose grew where all could see,sheltered by a garden wall and,as the days passed swiftly by it spread it's branches straight and tall,One day a beam of light shone through a crevice that had opened wide, then passed through to the other side.Now we deeply feel its loss, be comforted the Rose blooms there,its beauty even greater now, by Gods own loving care##imported-begin##Roger & JoAnn Hunter##imported-end##
