“Lorraine is my cousin. I will always remember her with a smile on her face - a beautiful and good person. Lorraine was a person of great faith - she loved going to the Capuchin monastery in Detroit, and believed deeply in the intercession of Father Solanus. She was good friends with my mother - I remember Lorraine going to the beauty salon near our home in Detroit and stopping over quite often for coffee and a visit with my mom. While Lorraine has left this crazy world of ours, she is now in the best of hands - God's hands. God bless you Lorraine, and may God grant you eternal happiness and peace.

“ To My Beloved Aunt Lorraine. Though you were labeled my "Aunt", you were so much more to me than that title. When my own father abandoned me and left me pretty much homeless, you took me in with no questions asked. Growing up I spent many summers with you and doing those odd jobs around the house on Sargent. Those church fairs at Immaculate trying to win a doll but instead won a TV. All good times All good memories. Looking through your pictures, it was hard to find one where you didn't have a silly grin or a goofy pose. You had a good time and it was captured in pictures. If only you knew how you touched others in a positive way. Anyone I spoke to only had nothing but good things to say and a story to tell. Though my kids had a grandma, you were also like a grandmother to them. Like I said from the beginning, you might have been titled my "great aunt" and I your "great niece", but the impact you had on my life, "my" family was so much more. You were the last remaining member to join the family in heaven. I hope you can look down on us and smile because we are looking up and smiling back at you. God has his angel and I have great comfort knowing that. You will be missed.

All our love,

John, Linda, Alex, John and Kaley
