“ Our sweet Mall, I am going to miss you so very much. Going to school everyday will never be the same. We always waited for you to arrive because you were always our first student to come through the door and you always had the biggest smile on and was ready to start the day. We would ask you how your night was and if you got to hangout with Bridget or we talked about your nails because you always had them painted different colors or we would compliment you on your outfits because you had the best clothes. Your classmates are going to miss you dearly. Our DWL class gained another sweet angel and I know you will keep dancing with us up in heaven. My heart breaks for all of your family and friends and I send all my love and prayers to everyone who had the pleasure to know you. Rest In Peace beautiful. Ms. Sam loves you very much. 🙏💚
