“ You will never cease being my wife and my love. I must believe that one day we'll be together again. At this moment, I feel so sad and alone but there is the joy of knowing that you are at peace in heaven, and are free from the pain and suffering that you have endured.

Oh Ed, I am so very sorry for your loss. Maggie was such a warm and sweet person. I remember her first coming to the family reunions and the aunts all loved her from the start. She just fit right in! You are in my prayers. Susan

Eddie, you are in my prayers. Maggie was a beautiful, sweet soul. I am so sorry for the sadness and pain you are feeling. Your love for each other, lives far beyond "until death do you part". She is your special Angel now and will be with you every day until you are joined again. See you this afternoon. I love you

Dear Ed,
I am so sorry to hear that my best friend is no longer with us. I have tried to call not knowing that she is gone. I looked on the internet trying to locate both of you. She loved you so much!! Praying for you and family. My husband passed in June of this year and I have moved on and remarried. I am living in Missouri now. Be strong and Continue living. I know that she would want you to.

Your friend, Esther former
Immigration employee.

“ One of my favorite photos of Aunt Marg.

“ Aunt Marg was like a second mother to me, and Sue and Mike as my brother and sister rather than cousins. Growing up and spending so much time at her home, I always admired one of her paintings hanging in her home. I never forgot it. So later in my life, I mentioned to Aunt Marg how much I always loved that painting. Being the giving and caring person she is, at the following Christmas, Aunt Marg presented me with that painting in a frame. I have it prominently displayed in my home. The vibrancy of the attached photo does not compare with the love that emanates from it. I am fortunate to be able to see it every day and think of my Aunt Marg.

We will miss you, Maggie. Sitting out will never be the same. The driveway ladies lost a major part.

I remember my Aunt Marg speaking so fondly of the driveway ladies.
