“ Mark we will miss you, Your laughter, cracking of knuckles, and your great smile with a bear hug for friends. I remember when our Bouvier (dog sp?) Holiday ripped the pocket off your shirt in one clean jump and bite (not damaging the rest of shirt). You said " oh just as well * kept falling out of it anyway"! And the story of your convertible Lincoln with suicide doors and no brakes going up to Powers cottage. I didn't go thank goodness, but the story still lives on! Yes, and all the times you helped us with cement work, doorwalls, porches and what not. Euchre will never be the same, (especially 2 handed for Dave), but the time you came home after your last knee operation, feeling a little groggy, and it was you and I against Dave and Dan. First hand, you go alone and didn't win a trick! the surprise on your face was priceless! (we did win the game however). Oh, I could go on, but rest assured your legacy will be talked about for generations! Better place now my friend. Love you!

How could I forget one of your best attributes: fairness. How many times when we played 7 card and I know I had a good hand, but didn't know how to call it? You would say, "cards speak for themselves" and then I didn't have to call and you did and I'd win!

“ Mark we will so miss you. Thanks for kicking our butts in euchre every time. Thanks for trying to teach us to make bread which we never mastered like you. We will so miss our time in the kitchen, sharing recipes and all the laughs. So many good times. Dave will absolutely miss playing two handed euchre with you. Thanks for being a part of lives. God bless you. Dave and Debbie

“ Mark,
Still can't believe you are gone. I will cherish all our garage talks we had the past nine years. It was the highlight of my work day to pop on over and catch up with you. Life won't be the same without you. You were a fighter but I know you are no longer in pain and that provides comfort.
Praying for Your best friend, Sharon... for Sarah...for the grandkids... and for your entire family and friends circle.
The Oliver's miss you already.

“ Rest in Peace Markie. To my lifelong friend of 50 years. I remember meeting you on the hayride for Nativity so long ago. We hung out with all your lifelong friends watching football on springarden. The brickwork you did on my house is as beautiful as it w as when you did it. The ditch we dug for the sewer hook up that kept filling up with water. The cement you put down over here still have no cracks in them. Thank you for all the millions of games of euchre we enjoyed together, and all the memories inbetween. You will always be in my heart.

“ Whenever the garage door was open, Mark would give a friendly wave to all who drove by. Anyone who walked by was always welcome to chat. He loved to talk about his daughter and grandsons. He was very proud of his family.
