“I did not know you...but your child I do. They say that we inherit the good from our parents when they pass. From what I see she is smart, beautiful, kind, and loving and from those that know you....she seems to have inherited those already. From you and her Mom. May the ones left behind remember you with kindness and love. May your arrival have caused the angels to sing and may your music make them filled with joy." My condolences to the ones left with your memories and as time passes may they laugh with those memories. Sleep well as we have our own sleeping giants there to welcome you and a Father to embrace you. God bless you and the ones you left behind until they meet you again." Craig and Michelles Aunt Annie LaBell and Family. Sleep well.

“Sandy
We are so sorry to hear of Marv's passing - such a surprise to us. Our thoughts and prayers go out to you and your family. We so remember how much my Uncle Eddie loved to play music with him and how well they did it together. Please know and believe they are probably tearin' in up together again for all the Rock-a-billy angels on high!! May you find comfort in that thought and know he is at peace.
Take care,

“ Things I'll miss...Sipping bourbon next to you at our spot by the counter...listening to the "Letter from Michael" broadcast tape every Christmas (a tradition I will keep)...guilt free smoking...the best eateries in Pontiac...funny stories...geniune companionship from one of the most friendliest and sincere people I have ever met. I'm glad your not in pain anymore and I appreciate your life's journey...because it crossed with the road I've been walking...left me with an awesome and caring Mother-In-Law and a beautiful wife and kids. I appreciate the good times and look forward to seeing you again as Christ promised. Thanks for everything...we love you and know you loved us. Craig

Marv was one of the greatest musicians I ever knew. He was a friendly, regular guy, but when it came to music, he was an ace. - Craig Maki

Sandy, so sorry to hear about Marvin. Several weeks ago I contacted Craig to see if he had any info on Marv. I don't know why, at that time, but now it seems as though... You know how fond of Marvin I was. He was always great to my Dad and Eddie loved him terribly. In passing, I'm not sure you knew this, but my step-dad Dwight passed away a couple of weeks ago too, 91. My Mom is still taking it hard. I pray you find peace in this time of such sadness. Marvin touched so many people with his music and I still find happiness in the memories we shared. Move over Dad your buddy is coming home to see ya. God Bless!
