“ *I only met Mary Ann once - at Joey's High School Graduation Party.
She was so proud of her grandson and just lit up when she talked about him and the future he had in store.
Ms. B - He will certainly make a huge difference in our world!*

*I have enjoyed getting to know her through Cathy over the years hearing some great stories. May you cherish your great memories

Please excuse any grammatical errors as Cathy is not available to correct them.

“ Ah the days with Ms.B were always fun. I always remembered her telling me how handsome my brothers and I were. When she would say something along those lines, my grandmother was usually sitting somewhere near her and would always smile when she said something. The Holidays are something thats supposed to bring us together. Its always sad to lose someone near the holidays, but it makes remembering them a lot easier. Either the glass is half full or half empty. I'd like to think that Ms.B herself was a "half glass full" kind of gal. Christmas without her wont be the same and that goes for all loved ones who have gone before us. (Grandma T, Grandpa Lou, my Uncle Thomas) However, one day we will all meet again in Gods kingdom and confort eachother about the people we left on earth. It's not just us who have lost her but her who has lost us. Yet we will all meet again. God is good. -Dom Stefani
