“ I am Michelle's sister Barb. I remember the day she was born. Dad called from the hospital to let us know that the baby was born. Evidently they didn't have a name yet so they asked us over the phone what to name her. It just so happened that we kids were listening to the radio (just before the call) and the Beatles had a new song out that the radio announcer was promoting, it was Michelle. That is how she got her name. Love you little Sis!
