“ *Mitch was my Uncle and Godfather.
As a kid, I recall how he always strived to make others laugh at family gatherings, especially with his accordion in tow.
He loved a good conversation and engaged my Dad in some hardy debates on many occasions.
I'll always remember his smile, the sound of his laughter and his gregarious nature.
RIP, sir.*

“ One of many memories I have with my father was when he would always go to work in the morning he would come into our room and tuck me in and give me a kiss and tell me he loved me. He would take my blankets and tuck me in like a cocoon where I couldn't move and always smiled and I remember the smell of the Aqua Velva that he always wears to this day I miss him so much I love you dad I love you
