“ Down Memory Lane.

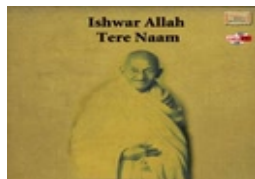

I met Mukund during our High School years in Mumbai; I was the new girl in a class full of old friends. Mukund was one of my first friends. He was kind, and helped me to settle in to a new environment. Our group of friends went on to enjoy many activities and picnics.

Unfortunately, we lost touch after school. Many years later and continents apart, we renewed our friendship and continued to keep in touch thanks to the power of technology.

I regret that we could never meet again. His desire to visit India could not be fulfilled due to his health, and I did not visit the U.S. in the last few years due to my own circumstances.

Goodbye, dear friend. We will miss you.

“ I feel fortunate to have known Mukund for many years; especially the last 10 plus years since we retired. Mukund always looked at people with compassion - be they family, friends or ex compatriots - and would try to help them every which way he could. Many here today will support that. A good, simple, honest man at heart. We will keep him alive in our hearts and cherish his memory.

“ I was fortunate to have worked with Mukund for more than 30 years and I have many fond memories. He was the best Industrial Engineer I have ever known. He solved many complex business problems across multiple corporate companies and was a mentor to many fellow employees. Mukund was kind and had a keen intellect which he retained. He had a quick wit, he was honest and always told the truth, even when it was difficult. Most of all he loved his family and was a devoted family man. Even though he never quite made it to San Diego, I trust and pray that he is at rest in a far better place. Charlie
