“ My thoughts are with all of you during this difficult time. I worked with Patrick at Kern Hospital in the early 80's. We worked hard & he was always a lot of fun to be around. He kept me laughing through good times & bad, and I will miss him. He was a good man, and a good father, and I feel very fortunate and lucky to have known him and considered his friend.

“ We have'nt lived next door for nineteen years but I will never forget Pats wonderful smile as he would say "Good Morning" with that western twang of his. He was a wonderful neighbor, always ready to lend a hand and we will always consider him a wonderful friend. We are so glad we stopped by just last week and talked with him. Scott and Kaitlin we are so sorry for your loss. Your dad was a sweet man. Tim and Debbie Briere##imported-begin##Debbie Briere##imported-end##

“ At the moment, I am at a loss for words, and that doesn't happen often. All I can say is that Pat was one of my favorite people to be around. He always had a smile to share, and a story to make you laugh. He will be sorely missed in this household.##imported-begin##Kaili Layer##imported-end##

“ Although I have never met you Kaitlan, please know that my thoughts are with both of you during this difficult time in your life.

Scotty, you know you can talk to me anytime online or by phone.

Please do not hesitate to let me know if there is anything more I can do for the two of you. From the short time I knew your father, he was one of the kindest persons I had met, which I have found to be a Sanders trait. Sometimes someone touches our heart and stays there forever and you and your family have.

With loving thoughts and sincere sympathies for your loss,

“ With great love and joy, we welcomed our grandson, Bodhi (pronounced liked Cody but with a "B") Allyn Layer born on July 22, 2006. He is perfect in every way, up to and including his wonderful round chubby cheeks..the same chubby cheeks that I remember that my wonderful brother Patrick had at his birth and through to the day of his passing on July 22, 2006. I think as I look at our Bodhi's perfect round cheeks how much I thought of Patrick, his round cheeks, his bright red hair, his jovial nature and his loving spirit. And as I heard of Patrick's death, I remembered how he was outside of the delivery room door almost 29 years ago when my son, Kaili was born. I remember how excited he was to be there when Kaili arrived and welcomed him into the world. Shortly after Kaili arrived, Patrick struck out to Detroit with his best friend, Brian Jones and had been there ever since. I think of how much we all thought of him daily and missed him. And as I think of my beautiful grandson's round little face, even though he didn't inherit Patrick's fiery red hair, I know that Patrick's spirit will always be with me because of those chubby little cheeks. I hope that Bodhi inherited many things from his Mother. Her sweet temperment, her intelligence, her talent, her loving nature. But I hope also that he inherited some of his Uncle Patrick as well. His wonderful sense of humor, his joyful laugh, his open hearted, loving ways. While Patrick's heart was bigger than a Wyoming sky, in the end, his heart is what took him from us. We will miss him. Go rest high on that mountain, Pat. Your work here on earth is done.

I know that he was met by Grandpa Sanders, Uncle Grant and of course, our dear Mother. But there with his family, was his friend Brian to welcome him as well. Rest well my dear brother, Patrick.##imported-begin##Corby Layer##imported-end##
