“ Remembering Paul... I remember Paul's first day at Emcore/SolAero, now Rocket Lab. He was a quiet, respectful guy, and a good listener. When he spoke, you knew that he knew his stuff. Every time I passed him in the hallway, he would say hello. I appreciated his honesty, and his willingness to help. He was a good employee and a good mentor. People relied on his knowledge. After Paul left, people were still calling him with questions. May he rest in peace.
