“ Our deepest condolences to you Aunt Jean. Uncle Bob will be missed. Like Julie said, although we didn't see you much, we have very fond memories of the two of you and are most grateful for your hospitality when we would come in to town. I also remember all the stories and experiences of the house being haunted and the stories of doors closing and sounds on the basement stairs. I still remember wanting a horse when I was little because of riding your horse up north. We had so much fun visiting and having dinners at The Sandcastle restaurant. One of the highlights when camping. I'm sure Uncle Bob, Uncle Sanny, and my dad are up there having a good old time and making Aunt Arlene and Busi, along with everyone else, laugh at all their jokes. May you find comfort in all the memories that you have of the two of you together and may God hold your heart in his hands during this difficult time. ❤️ Terri, Dave, Alyssa, Brent, Alexis, David and Maddi.

“ R.I.P. Uncle Bob. I remember going to visit Aunt Jean and Uncle Bob's house in Atlanta when we were camping nearby. There was a swan that chased after us girls flapping its wings and honking at us. I also remember the seance horn found in the basement and Aunt Jean and us girls tried to perform a seance using the names on the list that was with the horn! It was fun visiting you at your house! I also remember the corn roasts we had when you would come to the campground. We didn't get to see you often, but we were always able to pick up where we left off! May you find peace with our Heavenly Father and enjoy the reunion with your family and friends that have left us much too early. Love you ❤️ ...Gone but never forgotten!
