“ Nanay had an incredibly strong work ethic. She always believed in working hard and putting your best efforts in whatever you do. She always worked hard and no matter what she did, she always gave it her best. No matter what obstacles she encountered she found a way to work through it with her strength and determination. She taught this to me by her actions and by example.

“Nanay had such a loving and constant presence in my life and I am thankful for all of the time we spent together and everything I learned from her. Nanay helped raise me and I will never forget how much fun I had with Nin and Carl under her care. When she got older, our roles flipped and I am so grateful that she trusted me enough to take care of her even up until her very last days.”

“Nanay was the rock and foundation of our family and to her siblings, nieces and nephews. She lived a simple life with a strong moral compass. Her religious faith carried her through the many trials in her life. She was a loving Nanay with a generous heart. Nanay led by example with a quiet demeanor. She was strong and resilient. Nanay’s teaching and moral values had a great influence in forming me into the person that I have become. She was my light and north star. We were blessed to have her as our Nanay. It’s an honor to be called her daughter and privileged to have been entrusted to care for her. She will be forever missed and she leaves a deep void in our hearts.”

“ Nanay was a very patient, caring, generous, loving and most understanding person.

She cared about her family and the people around her. She helped numerous relatives to get a higher education so that they can help their families.

She loved and adored her grandkids and helped raise them to be respectful, caring and generous to others.

“ We called her Manding Lucing. Worthy of note was her untiring services and in the maternal and childcare in the 1950s being the peuriculture nurse in the Philippines. Her services was indeed demanded any time of the day and she was a beacon of trust and hope for many in need.

She was a remarkable woman and she will sorely be missed.
