“ I've always been told that God permits this type of suffering to happen to those who are strong enough to shoulder the weight of such sadness. I guess we should remember that whenever our grief starts to overwhelm us and He will be by our side. I pray for your peace of mind.##imported-begin##Janice Steinke##imported-end##

“ To Mrs. Sadowski: I really didn't know Ryan. I saw him around church a few times here and there and even though we never really met, I still miss him. I am so very sorry for your loss. In that moment at the store hugging you, I wished I could have done more. I know words won't make the sadness and hurt go away, but rest assured that God loved Ryan. You'll be in my prayers. If you ever need another hug, you know where to find me. Stay strong, and God bless you.##imported-begin##Taylor (the pie place girl)##imported-end##

“ Dear Mr. and Mrs. Sadowski:

Ryan was an Accounting I and II student of mine. While he kind of "taperd off" his last semester, he was very bright and quite knowledgeable about accounting.

I did get chances to talk to him, and he had what I considered to be a good sense of what was happening in the world. He also understood the hypocrasies he saw. I want you to know that he was appropriately funny in class, and was always respectful of me and his classmates who seemed to like him.

I don't know what he was like in his other classes, but he was great in mine. I remember giving him a hug on the last day of school, and told him to take care of himself. He did come back once to visit, and I appreciated it.

I know that there is nothing I can say to ease your pain, but I wanted you to know that he was a great kid for me.

May God bless you all.
