“ There are so many words I wish to share with you and hate that I didn't get to do so before you went home. Yesterday, we laid you to rest and it was so hard, knowing that we will never get to look into those big & sparkly eyes, see your beautiful smile or hear your bright and infectious laughter again. There will always be a void in our lives now that you're gone, but we will constantly try and fill it with all of the fun, loving, heart warming, crazy, silly and down right hilariously absurd moments we've shared with you. Even moments when we did nothing at all, like the times we'd curl up on the couch and watch infomercials for hours, why did we find those so darn amusing, lol. I regret that so much time has past since we saw you last and now our chance to create new moments has been stolen. You always think you have enough time :(I will cherish a sea of memories, memories that will last us until we meet again. Thank you... You have left footprints baby girl, a testimony of you existence and they are forever imprinted on our hearts. We never said it enough and now it seems vain, but know that you are loved dearly and will never be forgotten.

“ No matter how bad life got, you ALWAYS had a smile and managed to get through it. Even though we had our differences because of other people, I'm glad there was NEVER an animosity towards each other. You WILL be missed by MANY.
