“ Scott.... this is all still sooo hard for me to accept and understand! It has been two weeks since we lost a very special part of us and that is YOU! I will never get the answers I need to understand why you wanted to do this to us! I know deep down that you were hurting but there was so many other ways to handle it rather than hurt so many people in your life by taking your own! You were TRUELY cared for and loved by soooo many people! You should be pulling up to my house right now asking what's for dinner as you always did, or calling me to say what are you doing, im bored and coming over! I miss you so much Scott and not a day goes by or will ever go by that I will not think of you or ever forget the horrible day that you decided that Heaven was where you needed to be now! I really hope and pray everyday that this is what you truely wanted and it wasnt regret, and if so that you are pain and worry free now and you will PROMISE to watch over us all, always and forever!!! I Love you sooo much Scott and May you Rest comfortably now and please hug amd kiss Lori Ann and all of our family and friends that you are with now!! You will forever be in my heart! Love always, your sister!! P.S. We Love and Miss You Uncle Scott!!!! Love, Justin, Troy and Destiny!!

“ My deepest sympathies to the Pary family. May you find comfort in the memories you've shared together and in "the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our tribulation."(2 Cor. 1:3,4) And who promises that soon sickness, death, and pain will be no more.(Rev. 21:3,4) May these beautiful promises from the Bible warm your heart and brighten your day at this very sad time. Keeping your family in my thoughts and prayers.

Sincerely, Glenda

“ I miss you already and im stuck wondering why you left. You had so many that cared about you and loved you. I remember the times we would go out on the bike doing 170 down 94 when you had to reach back and grab me because you thought I was going to fall off. Im gunna miss those times we spent together. I know you would rather see us partying celebrating your life instead of crying and being down on ourselves. I just cant believe you are gone it just isnt real, i wish i cold just wake up from this and you be standing there smiling saying im here there isnt a need to cry anymore. I hope you are happy and your pain is gone. May you rest in peace with your sister and watch over us. I love you Scott wish you wouldnt of gone so soon.
